PRAYERS TO ST. MICHAEL, ARCHANGEL

A Citizen's Prayer to St. Michael

Please protect us, St. Michael the Archangel, against violence, murder, and robbery. In your goodness preserve us today from all the malice of sinful and wicked people. In your sleepless vigilance watch over the safety and welfare of our homes and keep guard over our possessions. Ever hold in your special care, most triumphant St. Michael, the forces of public order against the crimes of evil people and defend all honest citizens in time of peril. Amen.

A Policeman's Prayer

Victorious St. Michael, you know how evil men are awake and plotting while good men sleep. Even so was faithless Judas awake and betraying our Lord while the Apostles slumbered in the Garden at Gethsemane.

Help me, powerful Archangel of God, to be always alert at my post, ever ready to do my duty, and to apprehend criminals without fear or favor. Be near me and my fellow police in times of peril and emergency, please. Defend us by your power when we are in danger. Be sure to shield us from all temptation and any occasion of sin. Help us

RICO THE ENFORCER

JUSTICE

NEWSWEEK

J. Ray McDermott & Co., a major builder of oil platforms, paid $508,615 in bribes to the vice chairman of Tenneco Oil Co. to undertake lucrative construction projects in the Gulf of Mexico. But the cost of doing business jumped unexpectedly last year after the firm pleaded guilty on seven criminal counts. A Federal judge in New Orleans not only fined McDermott $103,000, but confiscated its $897,000 in illegal profits from the Tenneco deals.

While serving as mayor of Lansing, Ill., for sixteen years, Jack O. McNary shook down real-estate developers and invested his booty in two private businesses. Convicted last year of extortion, McNary was sen-

Charles Pugh—Atlanta Journal-Constitution

A new spoils system: The government could not seize a private mansion, but it could take profits from an oil rig, and possibly a used-car lot tenced to three years in prison. He will also have to ransom his businesses, which the government now effectively controls.

These cases share a dubious distinction. The Justice Department prosecuted them—and other button-down crimes—with a law designed specifically to convict Mafia capos. Known as RICO (Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations), the nine-year-old law allows the government to seize legitimate businesses if they have been used for illegal schemes or as investments for dirty money. Says Chicago attorney Sherman Magidson, "RICO can reach out and castrate people."

The RICO law frightens many lawyers and judges. They worry about language so loosely drawn that it lets the government sweep even small-time white-collar defendants and public officials into the same pit as underworld hit men. While Justice officials concede the law must be applied cautiously, they see no need to sheath their weapon. "This is a valuable tool," says Attorney General-designate Benjamin Civiletti. "We will not shy away from using it to pursue corrupt enterprises which do not fit the layman's view of organized crime." With about 200 RICO cases already filed, and the government increasing its use of the statute, the American Bar Association has scheduled a special seminar on how to deal with RICO at its convention this week.

RICO is one of the broadest criminal statutes Congress has ever passed. The law first enumerates 24 Federal and eight state crimes such as murder, extortion or mail fraud; then it states that anyone found to have participated in two of them within a ten-year period has undertaken a pattern of racketeering. If prosecutors can link such patterns to an interstate "enterprise"—loosely defined as virtually any personal association or business—the defendants become subject to imprisonment for up to twenty years, fines of $25,000 per count and forfeiture. "Taking away businesses from these guys is like taking away tools from a burglar," says New Jersey Federal prosecutor George Wilson.

RICO is an extremely potent weapon for prosecutors. In plea bargaining, when most cases are settled, the potential RICO penalties often lead defendants to make a deal with the government rather than take their chances with a jury. In Chicago, for instance, the fear of forfeiting their businesses led seven nursing-home owners and three pharmacists to plead guilty and pay fines of $1 million.

The law also gives prosecutors extraordinary latitude to trace crime back to the otherwise insulated kingpin. "The statute allows a prosecutor to paint a broader picture than could be normally seen by jury," says Jeremiah T. O'Sullivan, chief of the Organized Crime Strike Force in Boston. For instance, John Christopher was tried in Tampa, Fla., in 1975 for masterminding a ring that kidnapped women and forced them into prostitution. Normally the scope of the evidence would have been limited to the specific kidnapping; at the RICO trial, however, the judge permitted

Bob Sherman—Camera 5

50 witnesses to describe Christopher's criminal behavior over thirteen years.

The government has used RICO in several important prosecutions against reputed mobsters. In Chicago, two alleged organized-crime hit men were sent to prison for 30 years after RICO convictions. And in Boston, after convicting four extortionists, the government seized the contents of five massage parlors—including 5 gallons of massage lotion and a Christmas tree.

VICTORY: Much of the controversy about RICO has focused on white-collar and government corruption cases. Federal officials won an important victory last month when the U.S. appeals court in New York upheld a guilty verdict in a complicated RICO hospital-fraud prosecution. Prosecutors established that Karl R. Huber, a Phi Beta Kappa Princeton graduate and Harvard law-school-trained attorney, had

LOVE

My dear friends,
we must love each other.
Love comes from God,
and when we love each other,
it shows that we have been given new life.
We are now God's children,
and we know him.

God is love,
and anyone who doesn't love others
has never known him.
God showed his love for us
when he sent his only Son
into the world
to give us life.

Real love is not
our love for God,
but his love for us.
God sent his Son
to be the sacrifice
by which our sins
are forgiven.
